HARRY LESLIE TAKES OFFICE AS GOVERNOR

NEW EXECUTIVE PLEDGES
ERNEST AND HONEST EFFORT IN GOVERNMENT.

SUCCEEDS ED JACKSON

Republican Candidate From Lafayette Takes Oath of Office Shortly Before Noon Monday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14 (UP)— Dedicating his administration to an "earnest and honest effort to re-establish and perpetuate the fair name of Indiana," Harry G. Leslie, Lafayette, was inaugurated today as the thirty-second governor of the State of Indiana.

In the flag-draped rotunda of the statehouse, before members of the legislature, state officials, Republican leaders and tip-toeing throng that extended down the board marble corridors, Governor Leslie took the oath of office and received from the hands of retiring Gov. Ed Jackson, his commission as chief executive of the state.

Prefaced with an expression of gratitude and acceptance of the responsibility attending the government, Governor Leslie's inaugural address carried an appeal to citizens of the state to share in the responsibility of citizenship.

Church and School were commended for their helpful influence.

Parents were adjured to instill respect for law and constituted authorities in the hearts of the youth of the state.

Unscrupulous lawyers were denounced of obstructing justice and thereby contributing to the increase of crime.

Greater caution in the selection of the judiciary was urged upon the electorate.

Indiana, free from debt, under a "pay-as-you-go" policy was eulogized for its splendid financial condition, development of its natural resources, its highway system, educational facilities and as the birthplace of a gallery of distinguished statesmen.

Campaign attacks were relegated to the past, and campaign foes asked to contribute constructive criticism.

Warning was voiced that persons or departments failing to show "proper regard and due respect for our constitution" will be summarily dealt with and publicly exposed.

The inaugural ceremonies were preceded by an hour's concert by the 139-th field artillery band of Lebanon.
State offices were deserted as steno-graphers and janitors vied with one another for vantage points.

Elza O. Rogers, Republican state chairman, called the meeting to order and introduced Stanley Coulter, dean emeritus of Purdue University, master of ceremonies.

Following invocation, Dean Coulter presented Chief Justice Clarence Martin of the state supreme court who administered the oath of office to Lieut. Gov. Edgar D. Bush and Miss Genevieve Brown, reporter of the supreme court.

Receiving his commission from Governor Jackson, the incoming governor took the oath, his hand resting on a Bible given him by friends.

Seated on the platform were members of Governor Leslie's party, including, besides the Governor, Mrs.
Leslie and their three children were Lieut. Gov. Bush, Mrs. Bush; Miss Brown, Bert Thurman, Repp, National Bert Thurman, Republican National Committeeman; Miss Dorothy Cunningham, national committee woman; State Chairman Rogers, Miss Mary Sleeth, state vice-chairman, Dean Coulter, Justice Martin and Governor Ed Jackson and Mrs. Jackson.

Governor Leslie's profuse thanks for the honor accorded him were followed by the words:

"I desire to give you the positive assurance that I shall not regard indifferent the sacredness of the oath that has been administered.

"I here and now pledge all in the presence," he said, "and all the people of Indiana that I shall exert to the very limit of my power my greatest efforts in an earnest attempt to reflect credit upon our beloved state, upon you as citizens of Indiana, and upon the administration of which through your grace, I shall have the honor of being executive head.

"As your governor, I am assuming the responsibility of it and it will be my purpose to serve all the people of this state without regard to party affiliation."

Pleading for public "cooperation in an earnest and honest effort to re-establish and perpetuate the fair name of Indiana," Governor Leslie declared: "The measure of my success will depend largely upon the support received from you as citizens of this great commonwealth. You cannot raise the level of governmental standards to a point higher than the source from whence it comes, which is the people composing our citizenry."

The public is within its rights when it demands that government shall reflect credit upon the citizenry, Leslie said, adding: "It is equally true that you are within your rights when you demand law enforcement."

But citizens must share the responsibility of citizenship in upholding and properly supporting public servants in their efforts to raise the standards of government to their proper level, the new chief executive asserted.

Declaring that standards of citizenship will be reflected in the home and the home's standards, Governor Leslie said:

"I desire to impress the mothers and fathers of this state that you cannot escape your responsibility of parenthood and depend wholly upon the church and the school to instill the fundamentals of good citizenship in the minds and hearts of your progeny."

"These agencies are making a gallant fight and are entitled to receive proper cooperation and support at your hands."

In many instances coming under my observation, I am persuaded that our boys and girls are not being given a square deal in some of our so-called modern and representative homes where fathers and mothers are absolutely failing to instill in their minds and hearts proper regard and subserviency to constituted authority.

In my opinion, one of the greatest among the many contributing causes to the alarming and constant increase in crime probably is changeable to the

TWO FIRE RUNS

The city firemen made two runs over the weekend but practically no damage resulted in either call. An alarm Saturday evening sent the fire truck to the old John property on south Locust street which is being remodelled by the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Some rubbish was ablaze and was quickly extinguished.

Sunday night, the firemen were called to the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority residence on south College Ave.
A chimney was burning out and it was feared for a short time that sparks might cause a fire on the roof.

George Washington Hanna, 84, passed away quietly at his home on west Walnut street Monday morning at 10 o'clock after serious illness of ten month's duration. Mrs. Hanna preceded him in death by four days, being summoned last Thursday.

Mr. Hanna was born in Waveland on December 3, 1844. He lived on a farm in Montgomery county until he was 15 years of age. He offered his services to his country at the outbreak of the Civil War but was refused on account of his age.

On December 5, 1864 he was united in marriage to Mary E. Nelson and to this union were born three daughters Cora who died in infancy; Hallie who died at the age of 11 years; and Nellie G. who became the wife of Ora Tustison and whose death occurred on June 8, 1918.

In 1866, Mr. Hanna located on a farm near Morton where he spent six years. He then engaged in the mercantile business at Morton for 15 years and then purchased a farm at what is known as the Hanna Crossing, ten miles north of the city at the intersection of State Road 43 and the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway.

Twenty years ago, Mr. and Mrs.
Hanna moved to their home on west Walnut street in this city.

The deceased was always active in public affairs and was appointed as one of the commissioners that had charge of the erection of the present court house here in 1904. He took great interest in Republican politics, and for some years, served as trustee of Clinton township. In 1895, he was elected to the lower house of the Indiana Legislature. He served two terms as member of the Advisory Board of Monroe township, and was secretary of the temperance organization, which had charge of the campaign for local option in January, 1909. He was also president of the Putnam Civic Union.
He was always foremost in upholding all moral causes, and was a citizen, without reproach in all walks of life.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and a Knights Templar.

The funeral for this distinguished Greencastle citizen will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Brick Chapel Church. Dr. C. Howard Taylor will have charge of the services. Interment will be in the Brick Chapel cemetery.

VISIT STATE FARM

Members of the Montgomery county board of commissioners, Elmer Hester, Frank Custer and Willie Graves, accompanied Sheriff Tom Rice to the state penal farm at Putnamville Friday where they inspected the institution. The four local men were the guests of Superintendent Ralph Howard at dinner Friday noon.

The commissioners were shown about the farm and buildings and observed the conditions under which the men who are imprisoned there live.
They reported that so far as they could see the farm is conducted in an excellent manner although none of them expressed any desire to spend much time at the place.—Crawfords-

TRI-MOTORED MONOPLANE CAR-RIES "LOVE EAGLE" TO ST.
LOUIS, MONDAY.

Only a few Greencastle people noticed the giant tri-motored monoplane which passed over the city, at 9 o'- clock Monday morning, roaring its way westward. In this plane was no other than Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, hero of the New York-to-Paris solo flight and better known to his millions of admirers as the "Lone Eagle" and "Lindy".

America's flying ace, stopped at the Mars Hill airport in Indianapolis at 8 a. m. after an early morning hop-off from Columbus, Ohio. At the Hoosier capital, Lindbergh conferred with Capt. H. Weir Cook, manager of the Curtiss Flying Service of Indiana, on matters relating to the use of Sout field at Mars Hill as an airport by the Transcontinental Transport in its air-rail forty-eight hour service across the continent.

Accompanying Col. Lindbergh were Paul Henderson, vice president and general manager of the Transcontinental Air Transport; C. S. Jones, president of the Curtiss Flying Service, Inc. of New York, and H. C.
Ferguson, in charge of operations of the Curtiss company.

SATURDAY.

Elmer Stanger's Ford roadster was completely demolished by a fast easton the tracks at the Raines crossing, three miles east of the city.

It is said Stanger saw the headlight of the approaching train and tried to stop but the momentum carried the car directly on the crossing.
He jumped from his seat and tried to crank it but he did not have sufficient time. Stanger jumped to one side as the Pennsy train struck the auto and escaped injury but his car was a complete wreck.

SISTER PLANE OF QUESTION MARK DIVES TO DOOM

RATES HONOR ROLL

Oswald Stone

Stone, regular forward on the DePauw basketball team, rates the Honor Roll in the Indianapolis Star for his playing against Indiana Central last Tuesday night. Stone played center during this game in place of Mountz who was on the bench with an injured ankle. "O's" is high point man for the Tigers, so far this season, and is one of the most consistent offensive and defensive athletes to don an Old Gold uniform in recent years. Congratulations Stone, may we see your name on Blaine Patton's Honor Roll many more times.

WABASH TOMORROW!

The Little Giants of Crawfordsville invade the land of the Tigers Tuesday evening for the first athletic encounter since DePauw drubbed the Scarlet on the gridiron in November.

Moffett's net toppers defeated Evansville on Saturday night, 26 to 24. It was a close game but the Tigers managed to pull out into the lead before the final gun. The Purple Aces put forth a good brand of ball and it was all the Old Gold drapery agitators could do to nose them out.

We were sorry to learn this morning that Greencastle will not have the regional high school net tourney again this spring. The state athletic association moved the tournament to Attica. Personally, we believe this city is the best place for a regional meet. We have better eating and rooming accommodations for visiting teams and fans. As it is, local hardwood enthusiasts will have to be satisfied with only the sectional tourney this season.

BEDFORD FRIDAY!

Coach Ivey and his stellar squad of basketball players will journey up the Monon on Friday to clash with Bausman's Tiger Cubs. Is Bedford good?—well say they are, and how! A victory over the Stone City crew would provide the biggest upset of the season and would launch a new meteor in the basketball firmament. This is exactly what coach W. E. Bausman and his speedy Tiger Cubs are going to attempt and we don't mean maybe.

Bedford has a wonderful record for the season but Greencastle always plays better against a good team. Remember the Martinsville and Vincennes games? The Cubs should have won both of these tilts if they had obtained the breaks.

Here's a warning Bedford—don't be overconfident when you meet the Cubs. They're little, but their fast heady bunch of boys and they certainly know how to pass the ball; how to guard, and every one of them has a good eye for the hoop.

BRING ON BEDFORD. HONESTLY WE CAN HARDLY WAIT UNTIL FRIDAY. BEDFORD MAY WIN BUT WE BELIEVE IT WILL BE A BATTLE ROYAL AND ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN IN BASKET BALL.

"My DEAR! How PERFECTLY Ignominious!"

Wasn't it Richmond who lost to Elwood? Wasn't it Elwood who lost to Greencastle? Well, Muncie has lost to Richmond, on Muncie's floor—"Follow-Ups," Bedford Times.

Quite so, Mary Beth. Quite so.

Bainbridge fought hard but Jefferson of Lafayette won Saturday night's encounter, 48 to 26. The Jeff quintet led 24 to 13 at the half. Cowger and Dickson were outstanding for the North Putnam aggregation.

Vincennes evidently was worn out due to the triple overtime fray with Martinsville on Friday because the Alices lost to Muncie, 32 to 18, Saturday night. The Bearcats were ahead, 16 to 10 at the intermission. The final score made it the worst beating Vinennes has experienced in several seasons.

"Net Tabs"

What has happened to the spirit of G. H. S.? The Cubs made a grand showing against Wiley compared to the miserable support they got from G. H. S. students. Why not get busy and show Bedford a lively bunch of rooters and win or lose show the Tiger Cubs and Coach Bausman that you appreciate their efforts—and for Pete Sake, if you are not going to yell, say so before the game and do not humiliate a happy little yell leader and a splendid song leader by half hearted support.

"McGaff."

Dear "Net Tabs":

I notice Beelsville in doing quite a lot of celebrating because of their victory over Fillmore. Thanks to them if they consider it an honor to beat Fillmore. Probably they have forgotten the defeat they handed them earlier in the season. Here's my "Big Six": 1. Greencastle; 2. Roachdale; 3. Fillmore; 4. Cloverdale; 5. Bainbridge; 6. Reelsville. We've lost part of our players, but we'll get going again soon. Yea Greencastle, beat Bedford.

—A Fan of F. H. S.

Dear Net Tabs:

How's this for a Big Twelve for the State: 1. Bedford; 2. Columbus; 3. Muncie; 4. Martinsville; 5. Frankfort; 6. Vincennes; 7. Logansport; 8. Franklin; 9. Newcastle; 10. Horace Mann; 11. Greencastle; 12. Richmond.

Also Spencer, Delphi and Anderson have good teams.

Greencastle lets raise our rating in the State by demolishing Bedford Friday. So fight them Tigers for we're backing you lose or win.

But lets give hardwood its biggest up et by crocking them.

A G. H. S. Fan.

The suit set out that under terms of the lease, the oil company was to drill a well within one year, but failing to do so, put down a hole for a scant depth and by piping connections with a real well on a nearby farm, made it appear that the lease had been complied with.

HARRY LESLIE TAKES OFFICE
AS GOVERNOR

unscrupulous lawyers who are prompted by mercenary motives wholly, and are frequently aided in their designs to obstruct justice through the incompetency inefficiency and weak-mindedness of some of our courts," Leslie declared.

Expressing commendation for the legal profession generally, the Governor turned upon judges "who, in response to the appeal of unscrupulous lawyers, employ their time, talents and energies in finding excuses rather than reasons for their failures to intelligently deal with criminals known to be guilty of crime."

"This tendency," he said, "has reached the point, in my opinion, alarming in its consequences, as it has to some degree created a disrespect, a lot of confidence, a spirit of disregard, and almost contempt for our courts, who should occupy the very pinnacle of our admiration, confidence and esteem."

Greater care in selection is one of four states free from debt, one of five employing a "pay-as-you-go" policy, one of three having the lowest per capita cost of state government and in the forefront in development of natural resources.

The state highway system of 4,900 miles, 2,218 miles of which are paved, was cited as a matter of state pride, as was the budget system of control of public expenditures.

The state's educational facilities and contribution to statesmanship letters and literature were cited as adding to Indiana's conspicuous position among the states.

Declaring he was subjected, in the recent campaign, to "many malicious unwarranted and false attacks, which were supported by some of the representatives of the public press," Leslie said, that "as a private citizen, I resented this injustice, but as your governor I shall neither display the spirit of vindictiveness nor harbor malice toward anyone."

Constructive criticism, he welcomed in a cooperative attempt to "raise to the highest possible level the standard of governmental efficiency in every department of the state."

A rule of conduct for state employees was heard in the Governor's declaration: "So far as is possible for me to control, there shall be proper regard and due respect shown for our constitution by those who seek and secure public preferment under my jurisdiction. I here and now pledge you that any department guilty of violating the provisions of this promise will be summarily dealt with so far as within my authority is possible and will be publicly exposed."

He concluded his address by saying: "I here and now solicit your help and cooperation and the assistance of all the agencies for good throughout the state and it is my greatest ambition and earnest hope that through your helpfulness and the help of Almighty God we may be able to re-establish and properly perpetuate the name and standing of Indiana through out the nation, and thereby accomplish our greatest hope, ambition and purpose."

Governor Leslie's message to the legislature will be heard at a joint session of the senate and house Tuesday.
